

Raw linen pile

Linen pile towels, Echapper's signature fabric, have a unique texture that is supple and firm. The superior water absorbency, quick-drying and durability of flax make these towels an item you will want to use every day. Flax is a fiber that is attracting attention not only for its comfort of use, but also from the perspective of environmental protection, as the flax cultivation process is efficient in its use of water and resources. This non-bleached, non-dyed towel brings out the original color of the material.
